

Games, Nature, & Experiments 'In Grandma's Attic' Game

Estimated Time: 5 – 10 minutes

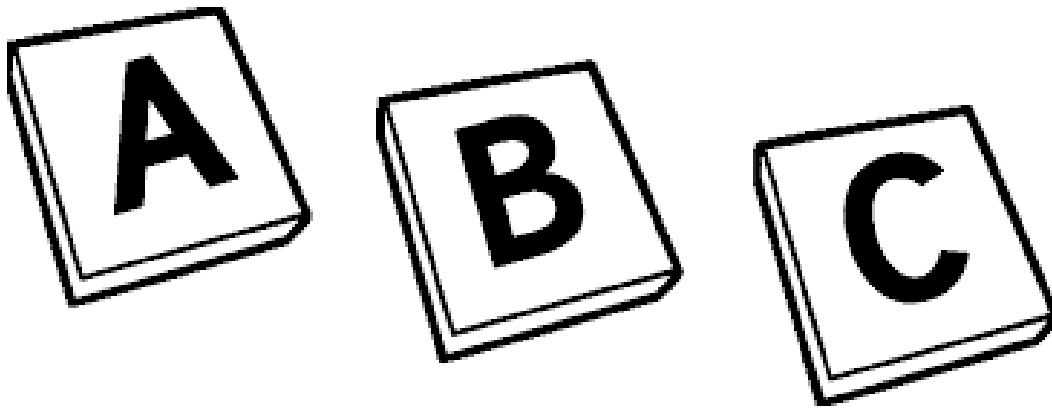

Age range: All grades (ideal for younger students)

What you need: at least two participants

Background Information:

This game is a great way to pass time with a small or large group of people! Try playing it remotely over a video call if you'd like as well.

Follow the instructions on the next page to get started.

'In Grandma's Attic' Game

Instructions:

1. Each round of this game starts with someone saying, "I climbed up into grandma's attic and I found a ____."
2. The first round of the game begins with someone stating an object that they "found in grandma's attic" that starts with an "A".

For example, the first player might say, "I climbed up into grandma's attic and I found an Anaconda!"

3. The next player must come up with a new object that they found that starts with a "B".
4. The game continues, in order, until the entire alphabet has been used!

Sources:

"Abc" clip art source

<http://clipart-library.com/free/abc-blocks-black-and-white.html>